

News from
Councilmember Todd Gloria
City of San Diego ▪ District Three

Friends,

I enjoyed seeing many of you this weekend! This weekend's activities exemplified the diversity that makes District Three so rich: we cleaned up part of the neighborhood during the summer Mini-FaceLift, commemorated the first anniversary of the City Heights Farmers Market and the grand opening of the community garden, celebrated the Philippine Faire 2009 Festival of Festivals, advocated for marriage equality with the Torch Relay, attended the Miracle Makers Gala benefiting Rady Children's Hospital, helped raise money for the Adams Avenue Recreation Center at the Art on Adams event, and honored the 39th anniversary of the Metropolitan Community Church at "Broadway, Our Way."

If you did not get a chance to participate in any of the events last weekend, many more are scheduled. District Three is a hub of energy and excitement, and I hope to see you soon. As always, you are also invited to share with me your questions and concerns by calling 619-236-6633 or by emailing toddgloria@sandiego.gov.

Upcoming Events

Water Restrictions Public Education Session

Wednesday, June 10

6:00 p.m.

War Memorial Building in Balboa Park
Park Blvd. and Zoo Pl.

This meeting will provide attendees with the opportunity to learn more about the new water use restrictions and to have their questions answered by Water Department staff.

The new water use restrictions were put in place by the Mayor and City Council because San Diego's water wholesaler will be trimming what they provide to the City. The San Diego Water Department and its customers will need to match consumption with the new water supply targets. Missing the targets will lead to surcharges and steeply increased water costs that the City cannot afford.

More information and a detailed list of the new water use restrictions can be found at www.sandiego.gov/water.
